COACHES

HEAD COACH JOHN MILLER

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL COACH - LA SALLE UNIVERSITY

John Miller looks to continue the winning tradition that is so familiar to La Salle basketball teams and this season will prove to be no different. Since taking the helm in 1986, Miller has compiled an overall collegiate coaching record of 185-79, which ranks him among the winningest coaches in Explorer history. He is also ranked 27th in the nation among active Division I coaches in winning percentage. During the 1990-91 season, Miller recorded his 100th victory and became the first women's coach ever to amass 100 wins. Miller's 100th victory was also a significant milestone for the University because it was the 300th victory for the La Salle women's basketball program. Then just three seasons later, he recorded a personal best coaching milestone as he won his 300th victory (includes 150 high school wins).

Last year, Miller guided his squad to its 11th consecutive winning season with a 20-10 overall record, 10-6 in the Midwestern Collegiate Conference, and a trip to the MCC championship game. Last year's success also yielded a fourth consecutive (seventh overall) La Salle Invitational title with the Explorers defeating Richmond in the championship game. Under Miller's guidance, Chrissie Donahue was the fifth player to be recognized as the tournament's MVP. Mary Heller had received the honor the previous year, Jenn Cole had received the award twice, and both Tracy Sneed and Jennifer Synder were also bestowed this distinction.

Miller has five 20+ winning seasons to his name, four Metro Atlantic Athletic Conference (MAAC) regular-season crowns, four Philadelphia Big 5 Championships, two NCAA appearances and one National Women's Invitational Tournament (NWIT) appearance. At the close of the 1989 season, Miller's Explorers were ranked #18 in the Associated Press (AP) poll. He has also claimed three Philadelphia Big 5 Coach of the Year honors, three MAAC Coach of the Year honors and a Regional Converse Coach of the Year Award.

In addition to his own achievements, Miller has also witnessed many individual player accomplishments. Jenn Cole became the all-time leading scorer and Jenny McGowan became the all-time steal leader, while Mimi Harris became the all-time assist leader, to name a few. Miller also stresses the importance of the well-rounded student-athlete. Both Mary Greybush and Cole were named GTE Academic All-Americans.

Before joining the La Salle staff, Miller coached extensively on the high school level. In 1976, Miller was named the head coach of the boys team at Archbishop Ryan High School, after serving as an assistant to "Speedy" Morris at Roman Catholic High School for five years. During his nine-year stint at Ryan, Miller was twice named Catholic League Coach of the Year. From Ryan, Miller moved on to Monsignor Bonner High School for one year, where he closed out his high school coaching career with 150 wins to his credit.

Miller, a 1969 graduate of St. Charles Seminary, holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in Philosophy. In 1976, he obtained a Master's degree in Guidance and Counseling from Villanova. Originally from Reading, PA, Miller and his wife, Emily, now reside in the Roxborough section of Philadelphia with their six-year-old daughter Katie.

THOMAS LOCHNER ASSISTANT COACH

Assistant Coach Tom Lochner returns to the women's basketball team for his ninth season. Lochner has been John Miller's right-hand man in all phases of running the women's program at La Salle, especially in the areas of scouting, recruiting, fundraising, and budget and travel management.

Lochner came to La Salle in 1987, after meeting Miller at the NCAA Women's Final Four. Prior to joining the Explorer staff, Lochner coached girls basketball at his alma mater, Bishop Gibbons High School in Schenectady, New York, from 1980-87. The first two years were spent teaching the junior varsity, followed by four years as the head coach of the varsity. During his head coaching tenure, Bishop Gibbons went 88-13, winning the New York State Championship in the large division with a 26-2 mark in 1986. Lochner's team also claimed three sectional titles and he was honored as New York State Section II Coach of the Year in 1985 and 1986. In addition to his coaching experience on the high school and collegiate level, he also has extensive summer camp work, instructing youths in the fundamentals of basketball.

Lochner, a 1989 graduate of Temple University, earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Physical Education/Athletic Administration. He also has an Associate's degree in Marketing from Hudson Valley Community College in Troy, New York. Tom is currently pursuing a Master's degree in Education at Temple University and is expected to graduate this spring. He lives in Willow Grove, PA, with his wife, Beth.

JENNIFER MCGOWAN ASSISTANT COACH

Jenny McGowan begins her third season as a graduate assistant coach. McGowan had a stellar career as an Explorer. She captained the team as a junior and senior. In her final season, McGowan averaged 10.9 points, 7.9 rebounds, 5.4 assists and 3.3 steals per game. She had a career-high 23 points against Central Connecticut State in the first round of the La Salle Invitational, a career-high 15 rebounds at Chicago State and a career-high nine steals at Loyola-Chicago.

McGowan became the 11th player in the history of the program to score her 1,000th point. She ended her collegiate career as the all-time steal leader. Not only does she lead the steal category, but she has also earned spots on the Top Ten career leaders list in games started and played, field goals and free throws made, free throws attempted, rebounds and assists. She was also the only other player in women's history to record a triple double, the other Explorer was her cousin Kelly Greenberg. McGowan was a three-time La Salle Invitational All-Tournament Team Member and a two-time Philadelphia All-Big 5 Second Team selection.

Jenny graduated from La Salle in 1993 with a Bachelor's degree in Psychology and is now pursuing her Master's degree in Human Services.

1995-96 OUTLOOK

The stage is set. As the curtain goes up at Hayman Hall, John Miller and his all-female cast are ready for showtime. They were a hit before; they hope to be a hit again. Miller returns his five starring players, most notably, Chrissie Donahue, as his leading lady. Donahue led La Salle in almost every statistical category as a sophomore and this season should prove to be no different. If Donahue continues to shine in the spotlight, she will be the youngest player in the history of the program to reach the 1,000-point plateau.

Similar to the theatre, the leading lady cannot shine if she does not have an extremely talented supporting cast. Lori Sparling, Marnie McBreen and Margit Rinke are Donahue's co-stars on the court. Sparling is capable of picking up the scoring slack from the outside when teams collapse on Donahue inside. At the two-guard, she averaged 12.1 points per game last season. McBreen, playing somewhat out of position at small forward, proved that not only could she knock down a three-point shot, but that she could also bang underneath with the best of them to pull down a rebound. Rinke came on strong in the latter part of the season, after she earned the starting center spot in place of Marci Willis. Willis, who started the first 13 games of the season, was side-lined with a knee injury which kept her out until the very end of 1995. Willis averaged 7.4 points per game and 3.1 rebounds. On the other hand, Rinke should have taken a bow for her outstanding performance in the championship game of the Midwestern Collegiate Conference Tournament when she scored a career-high 25 points, including sinking nine of 10 free throws. Finally, Ann Gallagher is like the orchestra director, because as the point guard, she is responsible for setting the tempo of the offense. Last season, she handed out a team-leading 147 assists.

Every actress knows that she is only as good as her understudy. La Salle is fortunate enough to have a back-up player at all five positions and then some. When Donahue needs "a blow" as Coach Miller calls it, Sarah Weiss is capable of providing the needed support. In her college debut season, Weiss scored over 100 points and grabbed almost as many rebounds. Also in their debuts, Sarah Haynes and Katie Wolfe filled in nicely at the guard slots. Haynes, even as a freshman, showed composure on the court, as was evident in the MCC semi-final game versus Detroit. She nailed a three-pointer as the shot clock was about to expire to give La Salle the lead for good. Wolfe, now with a year of experience under her belt at back-up point guard, is looking for increased playing time to show her coach, teammates and fans the performance she is capable of giving.

Other important contributors to the overall production include seniors Allyson Blue and Patrice McGovern and juniors Stephanie Coddens and Tina Wahl.

The original cast will also be complimented by the addition of Carrie Jewett and Jacki Wlodarczyk. Jewett is a 6-0 forward who hails from Circle Pines, MN, where she averaged 14 points and 12 rebounds per game in her final year at Centennial High School. She was also a three-time All-Conference First-Team selection. Wlodarczyk, a 6-3 center from Philadelphia, PA, averaged 11.9 points and 7.5 rebounds as a senior at St. Hubert's High School. She was a two-time North Division All-Catholic selection. With Jewett and Wlodarczyk, Coach Miller feels that he is adding two quality players to the program.

As for the schedule, excitement is in the air as La Salle makes its first appearance in the Atlantic 10 Conference. With 12 teams, the conference will be split into East/West divisions. The Explorers will compete in the West Division, in which they will have home-and-home contests with Dayton, Duquesne, George Washington, Virginia Tech and Xavier. La Salle will play Fordham, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, St. Bonaventure, St. Joseph's and Temple just once during the regular season. Along with St. Joseph's and Temple, the squad will continue its round-robin play in the Philadelphia Big 5 as they face Penn and Villanova. This season the Explorers return American, Delaware and Drexel to the schedule after a year's absence. Former MAAC rival, Siena, will also join the list of previous opponents.

As far as in-season tournaments are concerned, La Salle will head out west in the beginning of December to participate in the University of Nevada (Reno) Tournament that also features Colorado State and Northwestern Louisiana State. The Explorers will also host their 16th consecutive invitational that will showcase Howard, Kent State and Maryland-Baltimore County (UMBC). The Explorers' show runs through March, but perhaps if all goes well, La Salle will have its run extended to the big dance.

WHY WE'RE THE EXPLORERS

La Salle University's nickname - The Explorers - was erroneously bestowed by a sports writer covering a La Salle football game (La Salle played intercollegiate football from 1931-41) on campus sometime during the '30s. He thought that the school was named after the famed French explorer of North America. In reality, the school was named after St. John Baptist de La Salle, the French educator and founder of the Christian Brothers. Despite the error, the nickname has remained.

1994-95 REVIEW

Six new conference schools, half of them opponents La Salle had never faced. Not a senior on the squad. Four starting sophomores, three from the same high school. Did Head Coach John Miller know his team was going to be as successful as they were? Yes. "Because this group of girls was probably the best I have worked with at La Salle." Miller's 1994-95 team compiled a 20-10 overall record, captured two in-season tournament titles, and were three points shy of going to the NCAA's.

The Explorers opened the season in a Women's Big 5 doubleheader against Penn. As a warm-up to Big 5 competition, La Salle headed north to participate in the Harvard Invitational where the Explorers defeated both Fordham and the host team. In the title game, four of La Salle's five starters scored in double figures. When the Explorers returned to Philly, they finished the Big 5 round-robin competition with a win over Temple and losses to St. Joseph's and Villanova. Against the Owls, everyone on the roster played and scored, but it was Chrissie Donahue who led the way with 25 points in 25 minutes.

After Christmas, the Explorers hosted their 15th Annual La Salle Invitational. La Salle claimed the title for the fourth-consecutive year after defeating Morgan State and Richmond. To kick off the new year, La Salle migrated south to take on Tampa and South Florida in which they split games. Against Tampa, back-up point guard Katie Wolfe scored a season-high 14 points. The remaining 17 regular-season games were all against Midwestern Collegiate Conference opponents, in which La Salle went 10-6 in conference play. La Salle swept Wright State and Cleveland State. In their first meeting with WSU, Marci Willis notched a career-high 14 points. The Explorers split games with Xavier, Detroit, and Notre Dame. In fact in these particular games, the home team always won. This year marked the first time La Salle beat Xavier in the history of the series. In addition, the Explorers were the only team to defeat the Irish during the regular season. It was Donahue and Lori Sparling who sparked the offense in that game with 29 and 20 points respectively. The Explorers also earned victories over Illinois-Chicago, Wisconsin-Milwaukee and Loyola-Chicago, but suffered losses to Butler, Wisconsin-Green Bay and Northern Illinois. Against UIC, Donahue poured in a career-high 30 points. At Milwaukee, the team shot an NCAA single-season record of 69.6%, while Sarah Weiss recorded a season-high 10 points in the same game. At home versus Loyola-Chicago, Marnie McBreen recorded a personal-best 21 points, of which 17 came in the first half.

In the MCC Tournament at Northern Illinois, the sixth-seeded Explorers defeated the third-seeded Flames of UIC, as four of five La Salle starters registered double figures in scoring. In the semi-final game, La Salle downed Detroit. Sarah Haynes nailed a three-point shot with 4:18 to play to bring the Explorers within three. Then exactly three minutes later, Haynes hit another trey to tie the game and eventually give La Salle the boost they needed to win. Finally in the championship game, the Explorers fought a hard battle, but lost, 80-77, to Northern Illinois in overtime.

Individually, sophomore scoring sensation Chrissie Donahue earned a majority of accolades. Donahue led the team in almost every statistical category. She scored 563 points, pulled down 249 rebounds, had 74 steals and eight blocks, as well as shooting 53.1% from the field and 78.7% from the foul line. Point guard Ann Gallagher handed out a team-leading 147 assists, including a career-high 12 assists at Harvard. Lori Sparling was La Salle's outside-scoring threat, as she averaged 12.1 points per game. Sparling's best game this season came at Xavier, where she scored 17 first-half points enroute to her season-high 21 for the game. Marnie McBreen not only led the team in three-point percentage, but also was the team's second-leading rebounder, along with Margit Rinke. Rinke came on like gangbusters in the latter part of the season and culminated her sophomore season with a career-high 25 points in the MCC Championship game.

The Explorers also had several contributions from the bench. Sarah Haynes, Sarah Weiss and Katie Wolfe all had productive-rookie campaigns and all three players should see a considerable increase in playing time in 1995-96. Marci Willis was the starting center until she incurred a knee injury 13 games into the season. However, Willis did return to minimally play in the last five games. Allyson Blue appeared in all 30 games, while Stephanie Coddens saw action in 22. Coddens scored a career-high 11 points, all of which came in the second period, at home against Loyola-Chicago. Walk-ons Patrice McGovern and Tina Wahl both got 10 minutes each in the Temple game, along with making appearances in a couple of other games. With everyone returning, John Miller anxiously awaits the start of the 1995-96 season.

ATLANTIC 10 CONFERENCE

Happy Anniversary!

As the Atlantic 10 Conference celebrates its 20th anniversary season, it does so with a reinvigorated membership which stands poised to take the league to heights unmatched during the previous 19 seasons.

There may not be another conference in NCAA annals to undergo such a one-year facelift than the Atlantic 10 does this season. Five schools enter their initial season of competition in a league which will prosper with new and renewed rivalries, extended geographic and fan bases, more media exposure than ever, and a firm commitment to the future of the Atlantic 10.

Dayton, Fordham, La Salle, Virginia Tech, and Xavier join a nucleus of schools - Duquesne, George Washington, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, St. Bonaventure, St. Joseph's and Temple - which have been the foundation of the Atlantic 10's metamorphosis from a second-tier conference into one of the best in the nation.

"This is an exciting time in the Atlantic 10," says Commissioner Linda Bruno, who in her one year with the Conference orchestrated the new look. "We have added programs which have traditionally been very dedicated to maintaining excellence in the classroom and on the playing field to a group which has demonstrated over time its commitment to making the Atlantic 10 the best it can be. The Atlantic 10 is now the strongest it has ever been and will continue to grow stronger every day."

Whenever one looks ahead, it is important to remember one's roots and the roots of the Atlantic 10 can be traced to March 2, 1975, when eight university representatives met in Harrisburg, PA, to discuss the formation of a new collegiate basketball association. A similar meeting was held on May 23 of that year with the final formation of the Eastern Collegiate Basketball League announced on August 12, 1975. The NCAA granted allied affiliation status upon the ECBL on October 15 and granted the league an automatic berth to the NCAA Tournament on June 17, 1976.

The ECBL began operation at the start of the 1976-77 season with Duquesne, George Washington, Massachusetts, Penn State, Pittsburgh, Rutgers, Villanova, and West Virginia as its charter members.

Several changes happened quickly in the ECBL, the first coming in 1977-78 when the league changed its name to the Eastern Athletic Association - better known as the Eastern 8 - to reflect its changing mission. That year the Eastern 8 became more than a basketball league as the men's sports of baseball, cross country, golf, swimming, and tennis were added to the championship schedule.

The next major change came in 1981 when the office of the commissioner was instituted. Leland Byrd, who had served as president and executive director of the league since its inception, as well as athletic director of West Virginia, was named the Conference's first commissioner and established the commissioner's office in Pittsburgh. Byrd guided the Eastern 8 through several membership changes as two schools left (Pittsburgh and Villanova), four schools were added (Rhode Island, St. Bonaventure, St. Joseph's, and Temple), and one school left and returned (Penn State). After membership stabilized, the Eastern 8 transformed into the Atlantic 10 Conference with Byrd orchestrating the drive to make the league more broad-based as the women's sports of basketball, gymnastics, softball, tennis, and volleyball were added to the championship slate.

In May 1984, Byrd resigned as commissioner and was replaced by Charlie Theokas, who remained at the Atlantic 10 for 15-and-a-half months and brought the league to national consciousness with his "Think Atlantic 10" campaign. On December 31, 1985, he resigned to accept the athletic director's position at Temple and was replaced by Ron Bertovich, who officially assumed the commissioner's position in May 1986 after serving as interim commissioner following Theokas' departure. In six years as commissioner, Bertovich expanded the Conference staff to better meet the growing needs of the membership and established the Atlantic 10 Television Network, which developed into a major regional outlet. In addition, he oversaw further membership changes as Xavier was added to the league while Penn State Rutgers, and West Virginia left. Furthermore, he continued the league's emphasis on broad-based programs as the Atlantic 10 expanded its championship list to 18 sports with the additions of women's cross country, field hockey, men's and women's soccer, women's swimming & diving, and men's and women's indoor track & field, as well as the reinstitution of men's swimming & diving.

On April 12, 1994, Bertovich resigned his position to accept the job of vice president and general manager of Empire Sports Network in Buffalo. On June 14, 1994, Linda Bruno was officially introduced as the Atlantic 10's fourth commissioner. In her short tenure as commissioner, Bruno has strengthened the Atlantic 10's membership with the additions of Dayton, Fordham, La Salle, and Virginia Tech, thus assuring the Conference's future. She has also relocated the league office to Philadelphia, placing it in the center of the Atlantic 10's geography. In addition, over the summer, Bruno negotiated a six-year television deal with ESPN/Creative Sports - the most lucrative and broad-based package in league history - which will translate into the greatest amount of exposure ever for the men's and women's basketball programs in the Atlantic 10.

Success in each of its 18 championship sports has been the hallmark of the Atlantic 10 Conference and that was reinforced this past year when 19 teams and ten individuals earned berths to postseason competition. Among the fall season highlights were Massachusetts and George Washington advancing to the second rounds of the NCAA women's soccer and volleyball championships, respectively, while UMass also received a bid to the National Invitation Volleyball Championship in only its second season since reinstating the program.

The winter season was highlighted by five men's basketball teams earning postseason bids, marking the fifth year in a row the Atlantic 10 has sent at least five teams to post-season play and increasing to 70 the number of men's basketball teams which have received post-season berths since the league was founded in 1976-77. Massachusetts carried the Atlantic 10 banner the furthest, reaching the final 8 for the first time in the program's history. Temple also garnered an NCAA berth, while St. Bonaventure (making its first postseason appearance since 1983), George Washington and St. Joseph's were accorded NIT bids. In addition, Xavier received an at-large invitation to the NCAA Tournament while Virginia Tech was crowned champion of the NIT. In women's basketball, George Washington advanced to the Sweet 16 of the NCAA Tournament for the first time ever with St. Joseph's also earning an NCAA bid. Massachusetts was given a bid to the NWIT - the first postseason bid ever for the Minutewomen. Thirty-nine women's basketball teams have advanced to the postseason since the Conference began sponsoring the sport in 1982-93. Massachusetts also advanced to the NCAA Women's Gymnastics Championship by placing fourth in the northeast region, while George Washington and Rhode Island also reached the regionals. UMass junior J.J. Tolhurst also qualified individually for the NCAA Women's Gymnastics Championship by winning the all-around in regional competition, and George Washington's Bambi Bowman participated in the 500-yard freestyle at the NCAA Swimming Championship.

The spring season saw Massachusetts earn NCAA bids in both baseball and softball, with Temple earning a spot in the NCAA Golf Championship. Individually, Rhode Island's Dave Carlson and Andrew Young also qualified for the NCAA Golf Championship.

All told, 182 teams have represented the Atlantic 10 Conference in postseason play since the 1977-78 season.

In addition to the team honors, several individuals were accorded honors as well, headed by Lou Roe of Massachusetts who was named to most everyone's second-team All-America basketball squad. Duquesne's Korle Hiede was honored as women's basketball's National Rookie of the Year by the United States Basketball Writers Association. Massachusetts had a pair of first-team All-Americans as Natalie Hart was honored in field hockey and Heidi Cocher was cited in women's soccer. Massachusetts' Danielle Borges was named a field hockey second-team All-America, as was Temple's Tara Silvestre. And Sveta Vtyurina of George Washington was awarded with second-team All-America volleyball status last season.

Atlantic 10 student-athletes excel in the classroom, as well. One of only a handful of conferences to sponsor Academic All-Conference teams in each of its championship sports (150 student-athletes were honored in 1994-95), the Atlantic 10 also cites a male and female Scholar-Athlete of the Year, and awards a post-graduate scholarship to a male and female student-athlete who expresses a desire to continue their education. This past year, George Washington's all-time leading women's basketball scorer and rebounder Darlene Saar and three-time All-America distance runner Bob Donker of West Virginia were honored as the Female and Male Scholar-Athletes of the Year. Saar scored 1,809 points and pulled down 1,139 rebounds over her career - a career which saw her earn the 1992 Atlantic 10 Rookie of the Year award and three first-team All-Conference citations, while maintaining a 3.41 grade-point-average in biology/pre-medicine. Donker, the only runner in Atlantic 10 history to win three cross country titles, was also a three-time All-America in cross country and the 5,000 meters - ranking among the top 20 in the world in the latter event. In the classroom, Donker also excelled, posting a 3.60 grade point average as a physical education major. The post-graduate scholarship winners were St. Bonaventure standouts Naveen Singh (men's tennis) and Melissa Jurecki (women's basketball).

The Atlantic 10 Conference celebrates its 20th anniversary by awarding championships in 18 sports: baseball, men's and women's basketball, men's and women's cross country, field hockey, men's golf, women's gymnastics, men's and women's indoor track & field, men's and women's soccer, softball, men's and women's swimming & diving, men's and women's tennis, and women's volleyball.

LA SALLE UNIVERSITY

La Salle is a comprehensive university that combines the best of all educational worlds. With more than 5,700 men and women attending classes, the university offers a pleasant environment within close proximity to Philadelphia's cultural, social and historic centers.

Founded by the Brothers of the Christian Schools in 1863, La Salle is named for St. John Baptist de La Salle, who established the Christian Brothers teaching order 300 years ago. The institution, which began as a one-building academy in Center City Philadelphia, is on a 100-acre, 43-building campus adjacent to Philadelphia's Germantown section.

The La Salle day and evening faculty numbers 400. With a student-faculty ratio of 14-1 and an average class size of 20, students can be assured of as much personal guidance as they need. This commitment to the individual student has always been a major tenet of the Christian Brothers.

Although undergraduate education remains its primary purpose, La Salle also offers Master's degree programs in selected areas of specialization, including: Business Administration (MBA), Bilingual/Bicultural Studies, Central and Eastern European Studies, Computer Information Science, Education, Human Services Psychology, Marriage and Family Therapy, Nursing, Professional Communication, and Theological and Pastoral Studies. The university also offers more than 40 undergraduate majors.

Various independent study programs provide students with greater options. A thriving, nationally-recognized Honors Program is available for gifted students. "La Salle in Europe" offers students the opportunity to spend their sophomore or junior year at the University of Fribourg, in Switzerland, while receiving full academic credit at La Salle. Programs are also available for a semester or a year of study in Spain and Ukraine.

Among the major buildings on campus are: the Connelly Library; the Roland Holroyd Science Center with facilities for study and research in Biology, Chemistry, Environmental Science, Geology, Physics, and Psychology; and the La Salle Union, which houses offices for most student activities and clubs and is the main meeting place on campus.

The athletic department is housed in Hayman Hall. The facility includes the 1,700-seat Joseph Kirk Natatorium, three regulation-sized basketball courts, a 12 laps/mile suspended running track, weight training and exercise areas, sauna, squash courts and a medical training area.

La Salle students come from 26 states and 20 foreign countries. The university houses more than 1,700 resident students in 12 dormitories and three apartment complexes. The average Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) score is 1023, well above the national average reported by the College Board.

La Salle has enjoyed increasing national attention including:

- U.S. News & World Report named La Salle one of the country's leading regional universities in the 1993, 1994 and 1995 editions of "America's Best Colleges."
- The New York Times, Money magazine and Barron's all selected La Salle to appear in their guides to the "best buys in college education."
- The influential Long Island newspaper, Newsday, referred to La Salle as a "university on the rise" in an article entitled "Where the Hot Schools Are."
- Standard & Poor's ranked La Salle 10th among the nation's liberal arts colleges in the number of graduates who are top corporate leaders.
- La Salle was selected to appear in Peterson's Competitive Colleges, a profile of the schools that consistently accept the nation's best students.
- A nationwide study of nearly 900 private undergraduate institutions ranked La Salle in the top four percent since 1977 as an originating school for Ph.D.s.
- La Salle had the nation's fifth highest graduation rate (94%) among Division I schools for students on athletic scholarships who entered in 1987-88. In last year's survey, La Salle again ranked among the nation's leaders with a 94% graduation rate.
- La Salle ranks among the nation's leaders in student retention; nine of every 10 freshmen return for their sophomore year.

ACADEMIC SUPPORT SERVICES

PHILOSOPHY

Student-athletes involved in an intercollegiate athletic program are in a very unique position. They are here in the role of both student and athlete and it is essential that they meet the demands of each role in order to experience success at La Salle. The Program of Academic Support Services for Student-Athletes was designed to assist student-athletes in their adjustment to their unique role. Through academic advising and essential support services, the active involvement of the student-athlete in the educational process is encouraged and the balance between academic and athletic achievement is fostered.

OBJECTIVES

- To assist the student-athlete in balancing academic demands so that their work toward an academic degree is completed.
- To provide a growth environment so the student-athlete can gain independence and achievement in all facets of life.
- To enhance the student-athlete's years at La Salle through the utilization of campus resources and enrichment programs.
- To assist freshmen and transfer students in their first semester in the adjustment to the demands of college through the orientation program.
- To encourage excellence in academics and athletics so that the individual's experience at La Salle is a rich and rewarding one.

ACADEMIC ADVISING

The course selection sheet of each student-athlete is reviewed prior to fall, spring and summer registration to ensure that all requirements are being met to continue satisfactory progress toward a degree and to maintain athletic eligibility.

MONITORING OF CLASSROOM PROGRESS

In order to stay abreast of the academic status of our student-athletes, progress reports monitoring attendance, completion of assignments and test scores are requested of faculty members during the semester. These reports also indicate if the student might benefit from additional help in a specified skill area. Freshmen and other selected student-athletes also meet weekly with the academic support services staff to complete self-assessment reports detailing attendance, completion of assignments, class participation and any test or project scores received.

TUTORING

If it is determined that any student-athlete could benefit from additional assistance to meet the demands of their courses, special tutoring is arranged. Our student-athletes have also made extensive use of the Sheekey Writing and Study Skills Center, the Math Lab and the Computer Science labs where individualized assistance is provided in particular skill areas.

STUDY HALL

Study hall is an academic practice designed to provide structured time for the student-athlete to complete the demands of class work. A study hall is open throughout the day for the use of the student-athlete. In addition, a supervised study hall is held each evening, Monday through Thursday. Student-athletes are assigned to this evening study hall at the discretion of their coaches in order to assist them in developing the skills needed to manage their time efficiently and effectively.

COUNSELING

Academic, career, and personal counseling is available through the Office of Academic Support Services as well as the La Salle University Counseling Center and the Career Planning and Placement Bureau. The Counseling Center also assists the Office of Academic Support Services with identifying particular learning needs of any student-athlete and recommending specific courses of action which can be implemented to help ensure the academic success of the student.

SPECIAL PROGRAMS

Throughout the course of the year, special programs designed to respond to the specific needs of the student-athlete are arranged. These programs cover a diverse array of topics to stimulate and encourage the development of the student-athlete as a whole person. In addition, special Study Skills workshops are offered in conjunction with the Sheekey Writing and Study Skills Center of La Salle University. An orientation program including such relevant topics as time management, anxiety, interpersonal skill development and university etiquette is provided through the semester.
